MARLBORO' HOTEL.

The subscriber would respectfully give notice that he has taken the MARLBORO' HOTEL, and is now ready to see his friends. The house has been thoroughly repaired, enlarged, and neatly painted and papered. The furniture and bedding are new, and the accommodations in every respect are believed to be equal to any other Hotel in the city. No pains will be spared to furnish the table with every variety the market affords. Efforts will be made to furnish the table with the products of free labor, and provision will also be made for those who prefer vegetable diet. Religious worship will be regularly maintained every day, and as far as possible to prevent, no company be received or bills will be settled on the Sabbath. No smoking allowed. The Hotel will be kept entirely on the Temperance principles, and while not a particle of intoxicating liquor will be sold or used, it will be a quiet home for gentlemen travelling with their families, as well as for others. There are several suits of rooms for the accommodation of small families as permanent boarders. Application for permanent board will be received at the Hotel every day. N. ROGERS.

CROWN GLASS.—The New England Crown Glass Company invite the attention of the public to their manufacture of Window Glass. They have taken the chambers over the store of Messrs Sumner & Hopkins, in School street, and are now opening an entire assortment of their glass for wholesale or retail.

The better to adopt their Glass to general use, they now divide it into 4 sections, viz: N. E. No I, Cambridge 1 and 2, and extra.

The N. E No 1, is composed principally of what was before termed 1st quality. The Cambridge No 1, correspond to the former 2d quality and is altogether superior to the best of the German and other Cylinder Glass. Cambridge No 2, is a good merchantable article for factories, stores, out houses, sky-lights, green houses, and buildings of the less expensive kind, and is cheaper by weight than the common Glass. The 7 by 9, and 8 by 10 come at 4 and 5 cents pr light, by the box.

The extra is a small portion selected for front parlor windows —and from the greater purity of its color, and durability of its lustre, it will command a preference at the same price, over the Dutch plate Glass.

By this certificate the purchaser may, by selecting the different qualities appropriate to the various parts of his building, obtain the glass at a great reduction from its former price—and it also supersedes the necessity for using the German Cylinder Glass, which disfigures so many of our otherwise handsome buildings.

There is no difference in the several selections in the color, thickness, and transparency of the Glass, nor in its external brilliancy; the Cambridge No 1, therefore, is as appropriate for the higher stories of the best buildings, as the extra for the parlors.

The impression has heretofore been general that Crown Glass was too costly except for buildings of an expensive character, but by a reference to their price current, it will be found that the cost of the New England Crown Glass over the Cylinder Glass, when judiciously selected, will not exceed one half to one per cent. on the cost of the building, according as it may stand alone or in the block—and there is no other manner in which an expenditure of five times the amount will add so much to the beautiful appearance of the building.

The New England Crown Glass also, by being of doubly thickness, is capable of withstanding violent winds, hail storms, severe jars, and cracking from contraction in cold weather—its thickness also, will make the rooms warmer by more effectually excluding the cold. Its use in the end is more economical independent of its greater beauty.

The Company have now on hand 8 to 10,000 boxes of the different sizes and selections, all of which has been opened and re-assorted with great care, and for all ordinary sizes an order can be executed within a week from its receipt.

They have also on hand, a few hundred boxes of various sizes of imperfect color, suitable for grinding and backs of buildings, which will be sold at a reduced price.

Gentlemen building, are requested to call and examine this beautiful article for themselves, before they make their contracts. By seeing an assortment of the various qualities they will be able to judge understandingly the kind adapted to their wants.

The office hours of the Agent in Boston are from 11 till 2, but in his absence Messrs SUMNER & HOPKINS are authorized to make sales. J. S. HASTINGS, Agent.

A NEW DISCOVERY
IN THE VEGETABLE KINGDOM.

BY DOCT. BONAUD, of Marseilles. By means of this newly discovered Medicine, every kind of Sickness which afflicts the human body may be cured. By its perfect harmony with the animal mechanism of man, it becomes an efficacious remedy—an antidote against all kinds of accidents to which the body is subject.

The following is an explanation of its mode of operation The active principle is the blood, which when it ceases to flow in a regular action causes sickness. As this medicine is a corrective of the blood, and as its tendency is to restore it always to its natural state, every disease is, therefore, controlled by its power. It contains no mineral ingredient; no poisonous substance, whatever, but is purely vegetable in its character. It is to be administered by doses according to the situation of the patient. Many have been restored to HEALTH by the application of it.

Dr Bonaud, the inventor, gives his patients advice gratis.

The unfortunate maladie known by the name of Spyhilis and all others of the same family, are infallibly cured by the purification of the blood.

Apply for information to Dr Bonaud, at his office Barrister's Hall, Court Square, near School street, Boston, at 9 o'clock a. m., and 4 p. m.

SPECIFIC COMPOSITION.

No mineral nor corrosive substance, neither any kind of irritating poison is contained in this remedy, but it is exclusively formed by a combination of simples obtained from the double influence of vegetable life and chemical action.

Persons pronounced incurable, or those who are given over by their physicians, by having recourse to Dr B will often find surprising benefit.

Boston.

About three months since my child, then three years and 1' months old, was taken ill with a disease of pain in the stomach and light vomiting. In a day or two after she complained o pain in the head. I then applied to one of the first physicians in the city, and asked his advice. After attending the child three or four days, I was told by him that her complaint was dropsy in the head. After applying leeches, blistering, bathing, &c. and holding consultation with a celebrated physician, they pronounced her complaints incurable. At this time she had lost her sight and speech and continued in this situation for 17 days, during which time she appeared in great distress attended with spasms. Having understood, by a friend, that there was a gentleman in the city by the name of Auguste Bonaud, who had recently arrived from Marceilles, and who had at that place performed many remarkable cures; I was induced to apply to him. He immediately called to see the child. He pronounced her complaints such that a cure might be effected, and proceeded to administer medicines which in the course of a few days, restored her sight and speech, and removed the spasms; and she now appears to enjoy perfect health. J. FREDERICK GUSTUS.

We certify to the above, MARY RAND,
PETER LAWRENCE.

For the good and comfort of my fellow creatures I shall inform them, that 7 years since I was afflicted with a nervous sickness, accompanied with liver complaint, which deprived me of sleep and appetite. At that time I called on Dr Bonaud, who administered to me his medicine, and caused a great improvement in my health.

Mrs HANNAH GODDARD, Roxbury.

For the comfort of mankind, I wish to publish the marvellous effects of Dr Bonaud's Vegetable Medicine.

A chronic inflamation in the chest deprived me of my health and put me in a painful and dangerous situation. Having understood of Dr Bonaud's numerous cures I called on him, and after taking three doses of his medicine, I recovered my health and natural strength.

JOHN WHITEHEAD, No 17 North Square.

My obligations to Dr Bonaud for the good which I have received from him, make me desirous of making them known to the public. I was very low from the ravages of an inflammation of the bowells, united with fever. At this time I called Dr Bonaud to my assistance, and three doses of his excellent medicine were sufficient to restore me to health, and enable me to recommence my occupations.

DAVID MEALVIN, No 3 Langdon Place

About 4 months ago, being on board the brig Diante, (master) coming from the East Indies, I was affected with the diarrhœ, accompanied with a daily fever; I had lost my appetite and my natural strength. At last I was so ill that I did not hope to be cured. I was in that bad state when I arrived in Boston; I had been a boarder of Mr Gustus, who told me that his daughter had been cured by Dr B. I called him instantly, put myself under his care, and after ten doses of his medicine, took in 20 days, I was perfectly cured.

WILLIAM STOKMAR.

My three children were attacked at the same time very severely by the same disease, and I began to despair of their recovery, when I fortunately availed myself of the assistance of Dr Bonaud, who, having administered his medicine, in a short period they recovered entirely from their sickness.

J. GILLING, No 7 Langdon Place.

My daughter, aged 2½ years, was attacked by a violent fever which in a very short time reduced her to a very deplorable situation. In this extremity I called upon Dr Bonaud to succor her; and by his administration of his valuable remedies, she was in eight days restored from sickness to perfect health. MARY B. DOLLIVER, No 36 Salem st.

During the last four months I was very ill, and was attended by the best physicians of Philadelphia. After having submitted myself to their care without any improvement of my health, they ordered me to travel to Boston, where having heard of the good effects of Dr Bonaud's medicine, I called upon him, and after taking one dose of the above medicine, I was perfectly well and returned homed.

MR MARTIN, 36 Salem street.
Boston, Commercial street.

About 3 months ago my son was affected with inflammation of the chest, with several cancers on the mouth, when 10 days Dr Bonaud's treatment have been sufficient to procure him a perfect health.

Dr Bonaud—Sir: For the good of my fellow citizens, I wish to write you this; with the request that you will publish it—The great obligation you have conferred on me because of the astonishing cure of my daughter, who was taken ill with a brain fever, and which your marvellous medicine cured in a short time, will always make me extremely grateful to you.

With respect,
MEHITABLE JOHNSON, No 4 Langdon Place.

Sir—The astonishing effects which your medicine has accomplished, cause me to write this to you as a testimonial of my gratitude. After taking three doses of your medicine, I was perfectly cured of a festule which I have had 3 months on the right breast.

I pray you to receive this in gratitupe for the good I have received from you. ZORADA BALDREY.

Charlestown.

Our daughter, 9 months old, was taken sick with convulsions; after 4 days severe illness, and having but little hopes of her recovery in this state of illness, we saw Dr Bonaud's notice. We called on him—he gave her his medicine, and after 8 days of his attendance, she enjoys good health.

Boston.

Last Saturday, the 13th, my child, aged 5 years and 1 month old, was taken very suddenly with apoplexy, and inflammation through the system, and complained of a great deal of pain and distress. Saturday afternoon about 6 o'clock, she was taken in a violent fit, and was senseless for more than two hours. I then sent for Dr Bonaud, by the advice of my friends. She took his medicine, and in 6 days she was about the chamber. I would advise the public to patronise him with safety.

COMMUNICATION.

Topsfield, Oct. 5, 1837.

Mr Greene—I noticed an article in the Post, over the signature of Flaccus, which I think is calculated to convey erroneous impressions, and therefore deserving of a review. The writer professes to have made a pedestrian excursion to this village to visit the "Cattle Show," and observe the aspect of the country. He does not state from whence he came, but he complains bitterly of the roads over which he travelled, and comes to the conclusion that the workers thereon were not democrats. If he alludes to the turnpike from Boston, he may be assured that the workers were democrats, true blue Hibernian laboring men! bone and sinew democrats! although their employers were incorporated monopolists, who obstruct the road with gates. Although I am an humble foot pad o'er the rugged paths of life, and know full well how to sympathize with this wayfarer in his wanderings, yet I think he has shown a lamentable ignorance of political economy, and a selfish judgment, in his appeal to heaven for democratic spirit in our Legislature, to accomplish a scheme foolish and chimerical. His establishing a test of civilization by sidewalks, would be about as effectual as his attempt to curse the pears. His disappointment about the apples, should remind him of the old adage—"It is not all gold that glistens"—and also of the parson who planted crab-trees on the borders of his lands. His vision of the kine, and reflections upon them, it must be allowed, are just. His speaking of the absence of beautiful things at the Cattle Show, reminds me of a lady who, after visiting a menagerie of wild animals, said that she saw nothing worth seeing, except a monkey dressed in uniform. That the state of agriculture is at a low ebb in Essex County, is erroneous, and if we consider the situation, the population, and resources, we shall find that it ranks behind no other county in this State, in its proportional agricultural products, or in its share of intellectual and practically scientific farmers. Flaccus asks—"Why, for instance, should the market in Essex county be almost entirely supplied with cheese from the dairies in Worcester county?" The reason is obvious.

The population of Essex being far greater than that of any other county in this State (except Suffolk,) on the same extent of land, the demand for many of the farmers' products, is, and must of necessity be, greater than the supply. Milk too, meets with a ready sale, more profitable than converting it into butter and cheese;—although butter is universally made, in large and small quantities, throughout this county. The making of cheese, requires a larger dairy than it would be expedient for Essex farmers to keep, while the population of Worcester, being scattered over a larger tract of land, and being remote from a market for immediate consumption, the farmers are better employed in the management of large dairies.

Flaccus gives credit to the exhibition of fruits, and flowers. He did not stop to hear the address; by this he lost a fine intellectual treat, and an important part of the ceremonies of the occasion. He took a stroll upon one of the hills, and asserts as his observation, that,—"the soil about this region is very barren." Nothing can be farther from the truth than this. The surface of the town of Topsfield, consisting of a fine variety of hill and dale, is covered with as rich and luxuriant vegetation as any other equal portion of land in this State. Let an observer stand upon her hill tops, and with an impartial eye, "view the landscape o'er," he will see on all sides, groupes of trees with luxuriant foliage, orchards laden with golden fruit, pastures verdant and free from rocks and other obstacles to cultivation, and on her hill sides, and in her vales, cultivated fields waving with grain, and rich with the harvest that well repays the laborer's toil. Flaccus, with cultivated taste for the beauties of nature, seems to find (amid this barren soil,) many pleasing objects; the Fringed Gentian, Coreopsis, more than twenty species of Asters, beautiful flowers, splendid autumnal scenery, all, in this barren soil! but he is deceived—the early frosts, and the late dry weather, so necessary to ripen the grains, have seared the late greensward, and caused a premature decay of vegetation.

Let Flaccus visit us when nature is awakened from sleep, when spring's first flowers appear, and balmy gales with music sweet, charm the senses; let him when "summer suns" are here, ramble over our fields; he will then find wild flowers and native fruits, reveling in all the luxuriance of a fertile soil. And if he's convinced he's wrong, then I say, Flaccus—Go! sin no more. But if he still persists in calling this barren soil, he deserves to be transported to the deserts of Arabia. ALPHA.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED. DR HERBERT, Member of the Royal College of Physicians Edinburgh, may be consulted on all diseases incident to the human frame. Patients who are incapable from infirmity of attending personally upon Dr H. can, by sending a particular statement of their case, be told whether they are curable or not.

"Medicine without principles is an humble Art, and a degrading occupation."

Dr Herbert having arrived in America for the purpose of taking a tour through it, and seeing in every place he visited so many invalids laboring under different complaints, and so many who have ruined their constitutions by applying to advertised nostrums, respectfully informs the citizens that he has returned to the city of Boston and intends remaining for the purpose of rendering his services to the afflicted.

☞ Dr H. may be consulted at his apartments, No 274 Washington street, ☞ near Avon place, ☐ from 10 in the morning till 3 in the evening. The Doctor wishes every person who may need his advice, to make timely application.

The advantages the Dr has possessed of acquiring a knowledge of different diseases, have been far greater than generally falls to the lot of any individual. From his peculiar mode of treatment, his professional celebrity has been established;—and since his arrival in America, gratitude arising from a thousand hearts is and has been a sweet enjoyment.

BOSTON MORNING POST.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 10, 1837.

Washington, Oct. 5, 1837.

I to-day saw a letter from a very distinguished gentleman in Ohio, dated in the early part of this month, from which I make an extract. The letter is addressed to a very eminent nullifier in Washington. The extract which I am permitted to copy, is in the following words:

"I yesterday spent a few hours in the company of the Hon. Thomas Ewing, of Ohio, late of the United States Senate. Mr Calhoun's speech had been received, and was made a subject of comment. Mr Ewing said that he was not disappointed at the course Mr Calhoun had adopted, for, it had been anticipated by him. He expressed himself decidedly an admirer of the dogmas of Mr Calhoun; and led us to understand, if we would, that he was a follower of Mr Calhoun's principles! You must recollect, however, that Mr Ewing is a candidate for the United States Senate, and, of course, is disposed to get golden opinions wherever he may find them."

You will see that the writer of the letter from which the foregoing extract is made, does not place much confidence in the sincerity of Mr Ewing; and, in justice to all concerned I ask leave to say, that I do doubt it most conclusively. For the opinions of Mr. Ewing, be they what they may, I have not entertained very great respect, since the day that he made a speech in the Senate, and attempted to prove that the United States cannot be a grain growing country, and must hereafter depend on the North of Africa and the regions of the Baltic for its bread stuffs!

The business of the day commenced with Mr Sargent's motion to commit the Anti Bank Resolution to the Committee of the whole on the State of the Union. Mr Bynum, of North Carolina opposed it with warmth, and we had a prospect of a furious debate, but it was cut off by a call for the Previous Question. On the call for a second to the Previous Question, the Ayes and Noes were demanded and ordered. On a second the vote stood thus: Ayes 101, Noes 101. Mr Speaker Polk, promptly voted in the affirmative, thus making the Ayes 102, Noes 101 So there was a second. The Main Question was then ordered. That Main Question was on the naked resolution of Mr Cambreleng:—"Resolved, That it is not expedient to charter a United States Bank." The Ayes and Noes were then taken, and the vote stood, Ayes 122, Noes 91.

Thus you will see, that the long agony is over—the project of a Bank of the United States has been defeated, and for the present must be abandoned. The orders of the day were now called, and the Treasury Note Bill was taken up. Mr Rhett, of South Carolina, spoke about half an hour, in favor of the Bill, and was followed by Mr Fletcher, of Boston, who availed himself of the occasion to make his maiden speech. He had spoken but a few minutes when I found it necessary to bring my letter to a close. The Senate has gone to the Races, and will not meet again till Monday. Yours very considerably,

CONSIDER STANDISH.

Washington City, Oct. 5, 1837.
Thursday Evening.

After Mr Fletcher, of your city, had concluded his speech to day, Mr Parmenter, of Middlesex, took the floor, and made a speech in favor of the bill. His position was correct, and though he made no attempt at display, and had not prepared himself for this occasion, he made a very smooth speech. He ascribed the embarrassments of the country to excessive speculation and overtrading, and contended that the bill was a measure of relief, which, if carried out, could not fail to redound to the best interests of that class of society which is immediately and exclusively devoted to commerce and manufactures.

Mr Fletcher, as you must be aware, from your knowledge of the politics of the man, went directly in opposition to the bill. It appears to me that the merchants of Boston cannot approve the course adopted by Mr Fletcher. If the merchants need relief, and would have it, they must, as a matter of course, be in favor of the Treasury Note Bill. Already has the bill, in expectancy, reduced the price of specie from eight to four per cent, in the New York money market. The Treasury Note Bill, in my opinion, is the only act of relief that human wisdom could suggest at this time, and yet, strange as it may seem, the measure is opposed by the whole whig delegation from the commercial cities. The people, aye the people, who are so much ranted about by demagogues, will soon see who are the advocates of relief.

Washington, Friday Morning, Oct. 6th, 1837.

The city of Boston, I had always supposed, was a commercial city; and I had been so stupid as to suppose, that your merchants, were willing to receive the aid of Congress, in getting rid of the embarrassments that now unluckily and unhappily clog the wheels of commerce, and impede the operations of the manufacturer and the artizan. I had always supposed that Boston was not inclined to the adoption of any steps calculated to produce her disadvantage. But, it appears from the tone and tenor of the speech of the Honorable Mr Fletcher, delivered in the House yesterday, that I have always been in error, and the merchants of Boston do not wish to be relieved from the embarrassments that time and chance have poured around their commerce, and are opposed to every scheme that can be got up to promote the public welfare. As much as this I infer from the speech of Mr Fletcher, because that gentleman did yesterday take a very decided stand in opposition to the bill to authorize the President to issue Treasury Notes. That bill, of all others that the sagacity of man could suggest for the relief of the merchants, is most certain to afford the aid desired by them; it is a bill, that will, when passed, afford immediate relief to the whole country; and every man, woman and child in the nation is aware of the fact. And yet Mr Fletcher, the representative of a commercial city, a city that is to be immediately benefitted by it, in obedience to the dictates of a fanatical party opposition, thinks himself called on to oppose its passage! And thus are the best interests of the merchants of Boston stabbed at, at the very threshold.

I am not at all disposed to abuse the Hon Mr Fletcher, nor do I intend to say one word that the justice of the case does not admit; he has his own opinions and is entitled to them; but, I shall in conclusion remark, that he may, in the best way he can, answer to the merchants of Boston, for his opposition to a bill, which every man must be aware, will, by its passage, at this very instant, afford relief to the counting house. Mr Fletcher may be a very able lawyer and an intelligent gentleman, but he certainly is not a very decided commercial representative. I do not any this much of Mr Fletcher very willingly, but I cannot as a friend of the merchants, omit disapproving the course of that Honorable gentleman.

Mr Wise's Florida War resolution came up again this morning, and Mr Loomis, of New York, rose to oppose it, and to vindicate the Honorable Abijah Mann from the aspersions of Mr Wise. The debate had not long gone on before Mr Wise treated Mr Loomis with contumely and contempt. The speaker called Mr Wise to order, and said to him that he must be respectful to the House and to the gentleman from New York. Mr Loomis did not make any response, and thus evinced a spirit that was not as manly as I could have wished. The debate was further continued by Mr Hammond, Mr Glasscock, and Mr John Quincy Adams, and was at last suspended by the call for the orders of the day. The Treasury note bill was then taken up, and Mr Bond of Ohio, commenced a speech to be printed and sent home, to be used by his constituents in making "root and yarb" bags. Mr Bond will speak till he speaks every body out of the House. The bill, I hope, will be forced through the House to-night. The Senate is not in session. The President has refused to hold any correspondence with Texas, on the subject of annexing that country to the United States.

Yours, &c. CONSIDER STANDISH.

Washington, Oct. 6, 1837.
Friday Evening, 8 o'clock.

The Treasury Note Bill is yet under discussion, and I do not discover any great prospect of bringing the affair to a close before a very late hour. It is the determination of the friends of the Bill to pass it before the House adjourns to-night. There is yet much to be said in relation to it, and as many honorable gentlemen are very much disposed to address the House, before the bill is disposed of, it may be late before the final question is taken.

It is the determination of the friends of the bill to pass it, very much in the shape that it was in, when it came down from the Senate. I hope this may be successful.

The moment the bill passes, you will find a very great declension in the price of specie and bills on England. The decline in these things will afford the best evidence of the utility of the measure. There has been some fine speaking this evening. Mr Legare has made one of the most splendid speeches in favor of the bill that I ever listened to. He is decidedly one of the best speakers in the House, and all hands to-night awarded him the credit of being the most eloquent.

Mr Legare, whilst discussing this subject, came in contact with Mr John Robertson, of Virginia, one of the great guns of the old dominion, and demolished that individual in the most gentlemanly style. He treated that gentleman with all imaginable courtesey, and literally used him up, by meeting him on his own ground, and refuting, by the presentation of facts, all the positions of the representative of old Virginia.

It is now getting so late, that unless I close I shall be too late for the mails. I therefore leave the bill to its fate, fully assured that it will be passed before midnight.

Yours, &c. CONSIDER STANDISH.

A correspondent of the Evening Post says—"For the first time since the landing of the Pilgrims, it seems, the Connecticut town elections are attracting some notice abroad. * * * They are usually tamely attended, and if there is any contest, it is commonly of a local character." The federalists require but amazing slight materials from which to manufacture their famous "re-actions" and "re-generations." These are often gleaned from steamboat lounging rooms—stage coaches—and militia training fields. In the harvest season of such glory the whigs seem to be given over to delusions very similar to Col. Stone's magnetic mania—in their clairvoyance they see democracy prostrated—federalism ascendant—and their own precious selves snugly in possession of all the offices under government. How cruel it would be to arouse the poor fellows before their clairvoyance has had its run.

"They (the Seminoles) are the descendants of a noble people, and nobly have they sustained the character of their ancestors. Our hope is, that they may never be conquered."

We copy the foregoing from a whig paper published in Ohio. It is a very striking illustration of one of the characteristic amiabilities of the whig school. It expresses the tone of feeling manifested by the whigs toward every people or tribe that may oblige them so much as to engage in hostilities against our country. Their admiration and sympathies are ever ready, in profusion, for bestowment upon our national enemies—be they white, red, or black—civilized or savage.

☞ Mr Bancroft's second volume of the History of the United States, is thus noticed by the New York Commercial Gazette:—

"It is a work which will rank with those of Gibbon, of Hume, and of Robertson, in style, in elegance of expression, and in philosophical views of causes and events. In our view, it surpasses any of these, in vivid and graphic depiction of prominent characters.

They were peculiar to their time, the fierce puritan, the regicide and the martyr are shadowed forth in all the vigor and faithfulness of one of Vandyke's own portraits. They seem indeed to stand bodily before us. It is here that his poetic and imaginative disposition has full play. He seems to have imbibed the inspiration of his subject and is for the moment the character he represents. In narration he does not confine himself to mere detail, but every event presents with it some deduction, some remark alike striking and illustrative, which enchains the attention of the cursory reader, at the same time that it furnishes food for the reflective and philosophical mind. We hail the work as a noble addition to the many which preserve the early history of the Republic."

Sucker.—We learn from a Western paper that the term Sucker, means nothing more or less than an inhabitant of Illinois, and arose from the circumstance of the hunters and travellers carrying a hollow reed, and when in want of water, on the prairies, they had nothing to do but seek the burrowing hole of the land crab, at the bottom of which there is always water. Into this hole the reed is thrust, and the thirsty traveller, applying his mouth to the end of the tube, sucks up a present supply of the indispensible element—sometimes neither clear nor savory, but always welcome.

Our old friend, the Jacksonville (Florida) Courier, visited us yesterday for the first time for many months. We were afraid he had been "killed in the wars," but are now happy to have our anxiety relieved by his appearance.

Bascom & Agant, at the Albion, do things up in handsome style. Their turtle soup last week produced a great sensation in the upper branch of our city legislature.

There is a phrenological establishment in Broadway, N. Y., where they charge a man one dollar and a half for introducing him to himself.

The New York Herald is becoming magnetic—the sight of a Mrs Andros has convinced him that there are more things in earth than he has dreampt of.

Be Careful—Don't try to swallow too large pieces of beef—Mr Sampson Woolsey was choked to death by neglecting this rule, at a general muster in Montgomery county, N. Y., a few days since.

☞ If Mr George A., lately from the South, is in the ty, he is desired to call at our office.

Indian Auxiliaries.—It may edify some of the whig editors (e. g. the veracious (lucus a non lucendo) ATLAS) who are now denouncing the Secretary of War and the Administration for enlisting Indian auxiliaries to carry on the Florida War, to learn that this measure was urged and adopted by one George Washington, sometime Commander in-chief of the forces of Virginia and quondam President of the United States.

In 1754, just before the battle of the Great Meadows, the aid of a considerable body of Virginia Indians (independent nations) was engaged, and messengers were sent, at Washington's suggestion, to the Catawbas and Cherokees to ask for auxiliary forces against the French.

In 1755, just before the dreadful defeat of the army of Braddock by the French and Indians at the battle of Monongahela, a considerable corps of Indians at Washington's earnest solicitation, was enlisted by that unfortunate General, but they were so coldly and ungraciously received and treated by that haughty and vain-glorious Commander that they withdrew in disgust.

The consequence of this withdrawal was the disastrous defeat and carnage which ensued at the battle of the Monongahela. Mr Sparks says, "had a scouting party of a dozen Indians preceded the army after it crossed the Monongahela, they would have detected the enemy in the ravine, and reversed the fortunes of the day."—Spark's Washington, (I. c. 2d, 3d, and 4th.)

See a letter written by Washington (ib II. 135) to Gov. Dinwiddie, in which he says, "it is in their power to be of infinite use to us and without Indians we shall never be able to cope with those cruel foes to our country."

In another letter (II. 147.) he says, "no time should be lost nor any means omitted to engage all the Catawbas and Cherokees that can possibly be gathered and immediately despatch them hither. Unless we have Indians to oppose Indians we may expect but small success." For still stronger expressions in favor of this policy see "Washington's Writings," (vol. II. 237, 276, 318. vol. III. 364.)

We commend the present enemies of this plan of action to consult authorities in future, before they shall again condemn the government. B.

Andrews, of the Theatre, has a sort of monomania for piscatorial pursuits. Looking over his memo. yesterday we found noted as the product of 1837, thus far—

3 Halibut.
19 Cat fish.
27 Skate.
634 Cod fish.
872 Haddock.
63 Tautog.
132 Dozen Perch.
10 Dozen Flounders.
62 Dozen Tom-cod.
63 Dozen Smelts.
42 Dozen Brook Trout.
10 Lake Trout.

This we call good work.

The Knickerbocker for October, contains a very favorable notice of "Bianca Visconti," as an acting play and a literary composition. Speaking of its performance, the Knickerbocker makes the following honorable mention of Miss Clifton:—

"There is a fine opportunity for the display of the power of the actress, in the scene where news is brought to Bianca of her father's death. The struggle between the joy which this event produces, by giving a chance of the coronet to her husband, and the sorrow which affection for her parent should cause, one acting against the other, present a scene which calls for the highest powers of the histronic art to portray faithfully; and it is but just to say that Miss CLIFTON did it justice"

Institution for the Blind—A most interesting examination of the progress of the inmates of the Asylum in Pearl street, took place yesterday afternoon. Their proficiency in arithmetic, algebra, geography, and natural philosophy gave gratifying proof of the skill and fidelity of their instructors, as well as the spirit of emulation prevailing among the pupils. The alternations of singing by them had a very fine effect upon the exercises, and must have had a strong tendency to dissipate the prejudices, if any were entertained by any present, against the general introduction of the study of music in our schools.

The Concert in the evening was not so fully attended, as might have been expected from the character of this city for public charity, a nobler object for which can hardly be imagined than the Asylum for the Blind. The young choristers, we believe, inspired a deep interest in the bosoms of all who were present at their concert.

Here's a compliment to the ladies of New England from the South.—The editor of the Norfolk Beacon says—

"There is nothing more fascinating than a New England lassie of eighteen, with her finely intellectual face, admirable in feature and coloring, and beaming with new beauty in the glow of conversation. There is an absence of that girlishness, which is equally at war with good taste and manners, and which, we regret to say, is sometimes assumed as something excessively captivating. * * * But we have not time to talk of the Boston ladies as we would wish, and we are not sure that our grey hairs are not more plentiful now than when we first saw them; but, be this as it may, we are decidedly of opinion that the women of New England are the richest as well as loveliest treasure that she holds."

Hudson's New York Express has commenced a hot war against the gambling establishments of that city. A western preacher, in his efforts to give his hearers the most enchanting ideas of heaven, held forth thus:—

The New York Express thinks that there is a Newfoundland fog hanging over the whig victory in Maine—we think so too, and that it is so impervious to the light that the sun will never shine on Edward Kent as governor of the state.

Murder.—The following remarkable account of a murder is copied from the Louisville, Ky. Advertiser, of Oct. 3:—

"A murder was committed in this place on Sunday last, by a German named Sheislan. It appears that he had been engaged to be married to the victim of his vengeance in Germany, but that some time since she came to this country. He followed her, first to New York, then to Pittsburgh, then to Cincinnati, and last week arrived in this city, in search of his 'lady love.' He found her, but she had changed her mind in regard to marrying him.—On Sunday he asked her to walk with him, and after walking to the outskirts of the town, he deliberately stabbed her with a knife, and continued cutting her until life was extinct, and then gave himself up to the authorities."

Capt Marryatt's melo-drama, written for Mr J. R. Scott, and produced at the Bowery last week, was a dead failure. The Sunday News says—

"It might have been wrought into two acts, perfectly suited to the Bowery; but, as it was, it was spread over a wilderness of three very long ones, and seemed as if it would never end. The tongues of the dramatis personæ were going on through speech after speech, while the action was standing still; and there were no acute, or profound views of character, nor novelties of situation, to atone for the retardment of the story."

Earnest Maltravers.—This is the title of a new prose fiction, or novel, in two volumes, which the Messrs. Harper have in press and will publish early next week We have read one volume, and predict that the work will be eagerly sought for, and read with the keenest interest.—The scene is laid in France, England, and Italy, and in the progress of the story there are some vigorous sketches of the society, manners, and intellectual peculiarities of the three nations. Earnest Maltravers belongs to the class denominated metaphysical or psychological novels, the class of which Mr Ward's Tremaine and De Vere are distinguished specimens. But it differs from and far surpasses those creations, in the vivid interest of the story, the brilliancy of its style, and the fervor of its narrative portions. Its metaphysics are relieved and animated by passion and pathos, and by vigorous and skilful dealing with the most varied shades of human character and impluse. In a word, it is by the author of Pelham, Eugene Aram and Rienzi.—N. Y. Com Adv.

The Choctaws, one of the emigrant tribes, are making considerable advances in agriculture and manufactures. TRANSPORTATION OF STORES.
Navy Commissioners' Office, 27th September, 1837.
PROPOSALS sealed and endorsed, will be received at this office until 3 o'clock P. M. of the 11th day of October next, for the transportation of provisions and stores to Mahon, to Rio de Janeiro, and to Valparaiso, (and to Lima, if required to proceed to the latter port by the senior naval officer or United States agent at Valparaiso)
The shipment to Mahon will be made from the navy yard at Norfolk, in two vessels, and will be in quantity or bulk equal to about 5800 barrels; of which about 2000 are wet barrels, and the residue in dry hogsheads and barrels, or measurement goods.
The shipment to Rio de Janeiro will be made from the navy yard, Boston, and will be in quantity or bulk equal to about 2000 barrels; of which about 1700 are wet barrels, and the residue are dry hogsheads and barrels, or measurement goods.
The shipment to Valparaiso (and Lima, if required) will be made from the navy yard, New York, in two vessels, and will be in quantity or bulk equal to about 5600 barrels, of which about 2500 are wet barrels, and the residue are dry hogsheads and barrels, or measurement goods.
The vessels offered must be able to carry the full amount of freight destined for the places for which they are offered; the capacity in barrels of each vessel offered must be specified, and their names, and the place where they are then lying, and if they should prove insufficient to carry the full quantity for which they are offered, ten per centum to be deducted from the price, payable by the charter party, to cover the injury to the United States; but no freight to be paid beyond the amount due for articles which may be actually carried.
The rate or standing at the Insurance Offices must be stated, and no vessel will be accepted until satisfactory reports shall be received of their capacity and character, after surveys shall be made by order of the Commissioners of the Navy.
One vessel will be required to be at the navy yard, Norfolk, ready to load for Mahon by the 1st day of November next, to take on board from 2,500 to 3,000 barrels. Another vessel will also be required to be at the same yard, ready to take on board, by the 1st day of December next, the remainder of the stores for Mahon, (about 2,300 to 3,300 barrels.)
The vessel for Rio will be required to be at the navy yard, Boston, by the 1st day of November next, ready to take in cargo.
One vessel will be required to be at the navy yard, New York, ready to load for the Pacific by the first day of November next, taking on board from 2500 to 3000 barrels; another vessel, to take on board the remaining stores for the Pacific—from 2600 to 3100 barrels—must be at the navy yard, New York, ready to take in cargo by the 1st day of December next.
The offers must specify the price asked for all barrels round, without discrimination of wet or dry barrels, or measurement goods, five and a half cubic feet of measurement goods and thirty gallons to the guage, of all casks not usually called barrels, whatever they may contain, to be considered as barrels
No primage to be allowed, nor must any be asked in the proposals.
The freight money will be paid in the United States, by the respective navy agents near the navy yard where the shipments shall have been made, or at such other place as shall be directed, on certificates being exhibited to the said navy agents, respectively, of the safe delivery of the respective cargoes, agreeably to the bills of lading, signed by the United States navy storekeeper, or by the senior naval officer present at the places of delivery.
Fifteen lay days to be allowed, exclusive of Sundays and holidays at Mahon and Rio de Janeiro, and at each of the ports at Valparaiso and Lima, should both ports be used.
And the offers must specify the rate of demurrage to be demanded, in case of greater detention.
Fuller information as to the nature of the stores and kind of packages to be shipped, may be obtained upon application at this office, if deemed necessary. P&S o3

Treasury Department, Fifth Auditor's Office Oct. 4, 1837.
PROPOSALS will be received at this office for supplying the light-house establishment within the United States with oil, keeping the lamps and apparatus in good repair, and furnishing every article that may be necessary for keeping the lights in full and complete operation for and during the term of five years, from and after the first day of January, 1838.
The number of light houses to be supplied will be two hundred and ten, thirty-two of which are on the Northern Lakes, and the residue on the Atlantic; fitted up with two thousand two hundred and fifteen patent lamps and reflectors. These are to be supplied with a sufficient quantity of best spermaceti strained oil, from the first day of April to the first day of December, and a sufficient quantity of best winter pressed oil from head matter, from the first day of December to the first day of April, in each year; tube glasses and wicks; and every article for keeping the lanterns, lamps, and apparatus in good condition, such as buffskins, cotton cloth, wick boxes, tube boxes, tin lanterns, cannisters, torches, oil feeders, files, scissors, whiting, oil carriers, knives, tube cleaners, wick formers, oil strainers, diamonds, &c. Persons disposed to contract will state in their proposals—
1st. The number of gallons of oil annually for each lamp which they will undertake to supply the several light houses with oil, transport the same, furnish all the tube glasses and wicks, and every other article necessary for lighting and keeping the lamps in good repair, and to visit and report the condition of the several light houses, at least once a year, to the Fifth Auditor.
2d. They will state in their proposals the sum in money for which they will agree to supply the aforementioned light houses with the same number of lamps annually for five years, with oil, tube glasses and wicks, and every article necessary for keeping the lanterns, lamps, and apparatus in good condition, including all the stipulations and conditions expressed in the above proposals.
The keeper of each light house is to be at liberty to consume annually, for his domestic purposes, a quantity of oil not exceeding twenty gallons, without any allowance or compensation being made to the contractor therefor.
The oil, tube glasses, and wicks, and other articles for keeping the lanterns, lamps, and apparatus in good condition, which shall be on hand at the light-houses at the time a contract shall be made, are to be taken by the contractor, who will be required to have placed in lieu thereof, at each of the light houses, at the expiration of the contract, the same quantity and kind of oil and other articles.
Should any diminution be made in the number of lamps in any of the light houses, by accident or otherwise, a proportionate deduction will be made from the quantity of oil to be delivered, or sum to be paid to the contractor, as the case may be; and if any addition be made in the number of lamps by special direction, or by the erection of new light houses, a proportionate allowance will be made therefor.
Bond and security will be required for the faithful performance of the contract; in addition to which the right will be reserved by the Treasury Department to annul it, if the contractor should fail, on his part, to comply with any essential condition thereof.
Proposals to be transmitted to the Fifth Auditor and acting Commissioner of the Revenue on or before the fifteenth day of November next, when notice will be given of the accepted offer. T&Ftd o10

CONSUMPTION

Is a wasting or decay of the whole body, from Ulcers, or Concretion of the Lungs, a collection of purulent matter in the cavity of the breast, a disease in which food cannot contribute to the support of the body.

THE ONLY SURE RESOURCE IS TO

for that purpose, DR. GORDAK, has invented two unrivalled VEGETABLE MEDICINES,

Jelly of Pomegranate

AND

ICELAND JELLY.

The Jelly of Pomegranate will promote expectorations of the matter which collects in the cavity of the breast, without irritating those delicate organs, and the Iceland Jelly will nourish the body, which food denies to patients laboring under the above disease.

The fact has been proved in the City of Boston and vicinity. There are a great many who were in the above condition, and have given a fair trial of the above named Medicines, they enjoy now comfortable health. About twenty who have been given over by eminent Physicians, have revived and are now doing well.

Directions, Causes, Symptoms and Regimen, you will receive with the Medicines.

DR. GORDAK,

also, gives great satisfaction in obstinate

COLDS & COUGHS,

ERADICATOR

DR LE SAGE'S SPECEFIQUE FOR SECRETES MALADIES, or 'Gonorrhea Eradicator.' The above remedy for the most distressing disease incident to the human race, originated from the enlightened mind of the eminent Le Sage, the promulgation and success of which throughout the kingdoms of France and Italy, has, of late years, added such high honors to the already highly honored name of the inventor. This composition unites safety with efficacy. And the venereal disease, whether in the form of 'Gonorrhea' or 'Gleet,' is eradicated by the use of it, with certainty and success, and the sufferer is restored to his usual health, without delay, or inconvenience. Tens of thousands of 'Parisians' will acceda to the truth of these remarks, and it is confidently offered to those afflicted, as the best and surest remedy for the above mentioned loathsome disorder.—The secret has hitherto been confined to France and Italy.—It is now for the first time introduced by way of 'New Orleans' to the American public, and is sold, in this city, only at No. 43 Ann street, opposite Merchants' Row, near the Market, by E. THAYER, JR., Druggist.

It is particularly recommended to sea-faring men as containing no portion of Mercury, whereby so many have been disabled from service on board ship.

The 'Eradicator' is found to give immediate relief to those afflicted with 'strictures,' 'whites,' and diseases of the prostrate gland.

Ask for the 'ERADICATOR.' Price $1 per bottle.

New Ship CAROLINE, 400 tons, Joshua Harding, Master.

New Ship CHARLESTON, 375 tons, David Eldridge, Master.

New Ship COLUMBIANA, 625 tons, Geo. Baker, Master.

The above Ships are all new, of the first class, copper fastened and coppered, commanded by men of great experience, have large and elegant furnished accommodations for passengers, with a separate ladies' cabin; will be furnished with stores of the best kind, and every attention will be paid passengers to promote their comfort and convenience. The price of passage is fixed at sixty dollars. They will at all times be towed up and down the Mississippi, and the strictest punctuality observed in the time of sailing. Other first rate ships will be provided if wanted by the quantity of freight offering to enable promptness at a day of sailing.

A share of patronage is solicited, and the proprietors pledge themselves to accommodate shippers as much as possible. They will receive and forward goods by the packets, free of commissions.

The first packet will sail 1st September. For freight or passage, apply to the masters on board, at Lewis's wharf, or to AMMI C. LOMBARD & CO,
No 13 and 14, said wharf.

These vessels are all of the first class, with experienced masters, who are likewise first rate pilots.

The owners of this line, to avoid detention by head winds and shoal water in the narrow and shoal part of the river near Albany, have purchased (to be used by this line) the Steam Boat "WADSWORTH," as a tow boat and lighter, which, with the lighter Grampus, of ninety tons, built the last season expressly for this line, they think will prevent the delay hitherto experienced at that place, and insure punctuality and dispatch. Merchandise by this line, destined to places on the northern, western or Ohio Canals, northern and western Lakes, &c. &c. &c. will be forwarded by the Agents without delay

These packets will sail regularly on Wednesday and Saturday of each week, from opposite No 15 Long whf, north side, Boston, and from the piers at Albany and Troy.

The patronage of the public is respectfully solicite

Boston Truss Manufactory.

THE subscriber would respectfully direct the attention of the public, and of the medical profession, to his establishment at No 63 Court street and particularly refers them to the approbation of the eminent Surgeons, whose names he has the liberty to subjoin as evidence of the success which has attended his endeavours to improve the structure and enhance the utility of the Truss.

By his recent invention "The Anatomical Self Regulating Truss," he believes that the desideratum so long attempted, has been obtained, as in this instrument, the convenience of adaptation, the certainty of direct compression, and the advantages derived from the fact, that the management of the Truss, whether regarding neatness or adjustment, is practicable by the patient, have been made abundantly manifest.

Relying upon the long established, and as he hopes, deservedly, high reputation of his manufactory, he trusts that the patronage of the community will continue.

Trusses adapted to every variety of Hernie, whether in the infant or adult, for Umbilical Prolapsus and other analogous diseases—Suspensaries and in general every instrument of this class, are kept constantly on hand, or will be made at the shortest notice.

Artificial Legs are made and warranted to walk with ease, also, machines for remedying deformed or crooked Feet, which will be adapted to any case, according to its exigency.

Surgical and Dental Instruments of every description made and repaired.

Ladies wishing for either Trusses or Grecian Belts, can be attended by Mrs Beath.

It is presumed that the subjoined list of references will preclude the necessity of further remark.

J. W. PHELPS, No 63 Court street.

RETURN

THIS VALUABLE INSTRUMENT and receive your money if you are dissatisfied. THOMPSON'S NEW PATENT TRUSS, superior to all others ever yet invented. The principle has finally been discovered by which a permanent cure of the Hernia (or rupture) can be effected Numerous certificates have been published and may be seen at the Agent's room, 297 Washington street, (being same house Dr Hewett keeps his rooms) and from gentlemen of the first respectability who have been cured by wearing them. It is not only the easiest to wear of any Truss ever invented, but it keeps the rupture (by an ingenious lock) perfectly safe, so that the patient can ride or labor just as well as though he was not afflicted with the Hernia. The success attending its use, and the constantly increasing demand for it is so great, that it may with perfect confidence be recommended, with the assurance that there is no imposition in the article. A trial of this instrument is its best recommendation, and any gentleman can have the privilege of wearing it six days on trial, at the expiration of which time, if there be dissatisfaction, the article will be taken back, and the money returned.

JOSEPH GILLOTT'S CELEBRATED PATENT ELONGATED METALLIC PEN.—JOSEPH GILLOTT begs to inform the public that he is constantly receiving from his manufactory at Birmingham, a regular supply of his most approved Metallic Pens. The stock on hand comprises the best assortment in the United States, and of warranted good quality—amongst which may be found his—

Patent Magnum Bonum Commercial Pen—Original Patent Slip Pen—do do Ladies Pen—with elongated Points—Royal Letters. Patent granted Sept. 27, 1831.

Also—Double Damascus Barrel Pens—Lunars—Peruvian—New York Fountain—Damascus—and various other kinds—put up in a variety of styles, viz: on cards of one dozen with rosewood and albata holders, in morocco cases, morocco cards and shell boxes.

Albata Everpoint and Pen and Everpoint Pencil Cases—Holders of every description.

CAUTION.

To the Public.—From the well-merited and universal celebrity of the above Pens, as attested by the whole mercantile community in Europe and the United States, several unprincipled makers have endeavored to impose upon the public, by a spurious imitation, purporting to be the original JOSEPH GILLOTT'S PATENT, but which are utterly worthless, and entirely destitute in those qualities requisite to fine writing, which have established such an unparalleled demand for the original in every country where it is known!!

The public are hereby cautioned to be upon their guard against these counterfeits, they may readily be detected by their unfinished appearance, and by the inferior style in which they are sent into the market, in their attempt to delude the unwary.

Further to guard against the fraudulent imposition, the public will please to observe that each groce of the genuine Pen is enveloped in a neatly printed wrapper, descriptive of the article it contains.

Each patent Pen marked thus, "Joseph Gillott's Patent"—and all other kinds are marked either "Joseph Gillott's Warranted" or "Joseph Gillott Maker"—in every instance the mark reading from the point of the Pen.

The above may be had, wholesale at 199 Beekman street, N. York, and GEO H. GRAY & CO. Boston.

Dr P. having obtained the latest and highly approved method of inserting the mineral or incorruptible Teeth on gold plate, so recently introduced in Paris, feels assured that he can not fail to give a general and acknowledged satisfaction to all who may favor him with their calls.

Persons requiring operations on the teeth will please call and see specimens at office, corner of Hanover and Portland street.

N. B. Dentists supplied with Mineral or Incorruptible Teeth, European and American, wholesale and retail, on the most reasonable terms. Orders from the country promptly answered. je27

REMOVAL.

INCORRUPTIBLE PORCELAIN TEETH.—The subscriber returns his sincere thanks to the citizens of Boston for the liberal patronage he has received from them during the last year—he has now removed his office to a more central situation, and owing to the great number of teeth inserted by him daily, he is enabled to reduce his terms at least 50 per cent on all operations from this date. The average price for the best Porcelain Teeth will be, on gold plate $3, pivot $1 to 1 50, filling and cleaning 75 cents to $1. and all operations warranted for the term of five years. He will continue to visit persons at their residence and complete any operations in two visits half an hour each. He has within the last three years instructed several Dentists in this city, who are now practising with great success.

CHARLES J. HOUPT, No 11 Winter street.

N. B. A complete set of 24 teeth to masticate with ease, for a person that has no teeth, will be ready for inspection in one month, and one hundred dollars will be paid on presentation for a better specimen of workmanship. jan19
